CRITICAL CRIMINOLOGY & JUSTICE STUDIES MINI-CONFERENCE Conference Theme: Gender & Race/Ethnicity

FEBRUARY 4, 2010 8:30am-4pm

ALA MOANA HOTEL -- HONOLULU, HAWAI'I

Criminology & Justice Studies in the Department of Sociology at California State University San Marcos and San Diego State University School of Public Affairs will host a critical criminology & justice studies mini-conference Thursday, February 4, 2010, at the Ala Moana Hotel in Honolulu, Hawai'i. This day-long event is the second in a conference series viewed as a grassroots effort to cultivate a critical criminology and justice studies collective in the Western United States. This year's program focuses on gender and race/ethnicity concerns, broadly examined, from critical and justice-centered perspectives.

The 8:30am-4pm event immediately precedes the opening reception for the Western Society of Criminology's annual meeting (Feb. 4-6) at the same location (<http://www.sonoma.edu/ccjs/wsc/conference>). We encourage you to participate in both but please note that registration and submissions for the two conferences are independent processes.

Email abstracts (300 words or less) to kglover@csusm.edu by October 26, 2009. Please include full contact information and university/organization affiliation with your email submission.

Registration Fee – Faculty/Non-student: $30.00 (includes morning beverage service, meeting space, student support)
Students are encouraged to attend and are not charged a registration fee.

Please make checks/money orders payable to UARSC (University Auxiliary & Research Services Corporation).
