

Sonoma State University School of Education

Because of the nature of the School of Education Programs, there are additional admissions requirements. Please see below.

1. Evaluation of International College Completion Requirement:

The School of Education requires applicants to have completed a recognized baccalaureate degree at an accredited college or university. International degrees or documentation of college completion outside the United States must be evaluated by an external evaluation service approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and by the SSU International Admissions office. The evaluation should state the U.S. educational equivalent of a BA/BS degree. Applicants are responsible for securing the evaluations and for any costs the evaluations entail.

Applications for admission to School of Education programs will not be complete until these evaluations have been submitted to Sonoma State University Office of Admissions and to the School of Education Credentials Office.

For information on agencies approved by the State of California Commission on Teacher Credentialing please go to <http://www.ctc.ca.gov/credentials/leaflets/cl635.pdf>

2. English Language Requirement:

Post Baccalaureate or Graduate student

- TOEFL - Test of English as a Foreign Language with a minimum paper based score of 600 or minimum internet based exam score of 95.
- IELTS - International English Language Test System, band score of 7.0 will be accepted.

The School of Education programs do not offer conditional admission for students whose English skills do not meet the minimum requirements for direct admission.
