Congratulations to our 2009 graduates

The Faculty of the Department of Environmental Studies and Planning are so very proud of all of our graduates. We feel honored to have had the privilege of being your professors. While we are sad to see our graduates leave, we know they also represent tremendous hope for our world.

While each of our graduates is truly distinguished, this year the faculty of ENSP has recognized a select number of students whom we felt significantly contributed to the campus and/or campus community. This year, based on the unanimous vote of the faculty, the following individuals have been awarded Graduation with Distinction.

Patrick Eidman
Carleen Weirauch
Adam Williams

Commencement for the School of Social Sciences will begin at 3 p.m. on Saturday, May 23.

Prior to the ceremony,
our faculty and staff will host a reception honoring our ENSP graduates in the ETC from 1 ~ 2:15 p.m.
Guests are welcome.
